

CLARENCE HOUSE

The landscapes of Wales are a precious natural asset - the bedrock of our environment and the basis of our cultural inheritance. The countryside in which we live, its villages, vernacular buildings and traditions require our nurture, care and appreciation. That is why I could not be more pleased to support the CPRW in their 80th year.

Charles

---